Further of the Missouri

KEY WEST, Oct 31.—The following are the particulars of the burning of the Missouri as obtained from the survivors who have arrived here. When the boat's crew which were saved left the burning ship, one boat was seen keel upward with two men on it. The rescued boat lay for two hours by a swamped boat containing nine men, including engineers, firemen and ship's barber. A bucket was given to the men on the swamped boat to bail it with, there being two on the rescued boat. Those in the swamped boat were unable properly to manage it, and in this condition were left It is not likely any were saved. No sails had been seen for two days previous to the fire. On that day the Missouri was in company with a ship from 9 15 A. M. until 3 P. M., when she was lost sight of. For forty minutes after the rescued boat left the Missouri, they saw the passengers and crew who remained on board, crowded on the after part of the vessel. Within twenty minutes, three boats were launched, including the rescued boat. With the exception of a few pieces of sugar cane, there was neither food nor water, only two small oars and one large one, and no sails nor anything to make them of. It was from 9 o'clock of the morning of the 22d until 2 o'clock of the 23d before assistance was obtained. At that time the schooner Spy was sighted, and they were rescued. The party pulled with difficulty to her. The Spy took the survivors to Helltown on Elbow Key, where they arrived about 7 P. M. on the 23d. On the 24th, a schooner was sent toward the burning ship with sheets and full dirgetions where to find her, and with instructions to look for the ship's boats and skirt the coast. The schooner returned about midnight on the 24th, and reported having seen nothing of the boats or passengers. The sea was then breaking heavily on the reefs.

Hung Jury.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—At the conclusion of the argument in the Hall case to day, the jury retired at 3:45. An unusually stormy session was held until 8 o'clock, when they adjourned for lunch. Judge Brady came in at 9 20 and announced the jury as not having agreed. The court stood adjourned until 11 o'clock to morrow.

Horse Malady.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—There is a general improvement among sick horses to day, but business and travel are still seriously interrupted. A hundred deaths from the malady are reported here and at Brooklyn to-day.

ALBANY, Oct. 31.—The horse disease continues. Oxen are used in drawing wagons.

BOSTON, Oct. 31.—Deaths of horses from the prevailing epidemic are increasing, and now average twenty five to thirty daily. There are few new cases, and some of the first ones are recovering, but the scarcity of workable horses continues so as to incommode travel and business, with small hopes of a speedy improvement.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 31.—There are 600 cases of horse disease in this city and 150 in Camden.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 31.—The horse disease has prevailed here several days. Two hundred and thirty horses of the Troy and Lansingburg Railroad are sick.

Death of John A. Griswold.

TROY, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Hon. John A. Griswold died this morning at half past eight.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Indian Agent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—The President has appointed Benjamin Thomas Indian Agent in New Mexico.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From London.

LONDON, Oct. 31.—A letter from the British sloop of war Shearwater reports that Lieut. Moore and Gunner Mahoney, of that vessel, performed the feat of swimming across the Hailes pont, from Abidos to Sestos.

From Madrid.

MADRID, Oct 31.—The trial and impeachment of Ministry Sagasta promises some very curious disclosures. Sagosta has announced his intention of defending himself on the trial.

A private company has made a proposition to the Spanish Government to construct and maintain at its own expense the lines of telegraph throughout the country.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

From Victoria.

VICTORIA, Nov. 1.—H. M. S. Chameleon arrived yesterday, 84 days from Panama. The Assistant Paymaster, Mr. Pearson, was lost by being drowned off the Mexican coast at San Blas, while out fishing with a net. A sudden turn of the tide carried him beyond the reach of his friends. He was no swimmer.

Men will be engaged during the winter in taking out ore at the Hope silver mines, and it is intended to erect a mill next spring.

The steamer Geo S Wright arrived at Nanaimo on Wednesday night from Sitka, after a rough passage of twelve days.

Mr. Garfielde and Judge McFadden, the rival candidates for Congress, are "sparring" on Puget Sound. Both parties appear to be equally confident of success.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

SAN JUAN ISLAND, Nov. 1.—Mr. Samuel Fuller, aged about 65 years, was murdered at his own house, which is about four miles from the American Camp. He was an Englishman by birth and a very worthy man. He was found by the Rev. Mr. J. Weeks and a party who went in search of him. He must have been killed on last Monday, as a neighbor saw him at noon, but on calling again at 3 o'clock P. M. of the same day, he was missing and was not seen until four o'clock this morning. He was shot through the neck and then his skull broken in with rocks. He was paid a hundred and fifty dollars a week ago, and this is gone. It is hoped that his murderers will be found, who are supposed to be Klamakas. A party is now going out after them. Mr. Fuller has a family living in England. There is great excitement among the settlers here.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, Nov 1.—Dr. Nilson states that there are several cases of the horse epidemic among horses of Suscol.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—At the rival mass meetings at Anaheim, to night, the San Diego R. R and Southern Pacific, report of withdrawal of the San Diego R. R. Co., from the field was authoritatively denied.

Up to to day thirty four horses entered for the fall races.

The fair opens on the 14th, in San Bernardino county, and is to be well represented.

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 1.—Work has been pushed to the new coal mine, and the vein has increased so that a large amount of has been taken out and is being used in furnaces. Also have discovered several new veins running towards the main ledge. Experts who have examined the mine, say that indications are of its being a large and valuable deposit of mineral coal

VISALIA, Nov. 1.—At the Kingston races today of 3000 yards heat, three entries were made Pacific Eagle, Coal Oil Tommy and Long Tail. The former won the race, but after passing the judges' stand was run into by Coal Oil Tommy. Both horses and riders were thrown violently to the ground The riders were somewhat bruised, but not seriously hurt. Coal Oil Tommy was so badly injured that he died at seven this evening. Pacific Eagle is supposed to be badly hurt

About $45,000 was subscribed at a narrow-guage railroad meeting last night. One hundred thousand will be subscribed within thirty days. The project is to build a narrow guage railroad from Visalia to Stockton.

Capt. Bates, and wife, a wealthy English couple were recently registered at a Chicago hotel. The gentleman was eight feet tall and weighed 485 pounds. His wife was just two inches taller. Both were well proportioned, handsome and well educated.

LAST NIGHT'S DISPATCHES.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO NOVEMBER 1

EASTERN STATES.

Horse Epidemic.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—The horse disease is spreading here with nearly as great rapidity as marked its progress in the Eastern cities. Over one thousand cases are reported this morning. All the express companies', car companies' and stage lines' horses are more or less affected, though there is no interference with car travel.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Although travel is still considerably obstructed there is a marked improvement in the horses Livery stable horses are greatly improving. The malady is said to be fully under control, and if there are still cases they are only of horses very recently attacked.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—The plague has broken out among racing horses. A race for $1,500, to have come off yesterday, was postponed, the horses suffering from the disease. The horses entered were Sensation, W. S. Allen and Hotspur. It is reported that Rosalind is sick at Trenton. The Evening Telegram estimates the number of sick horses at from five to ten thousand, but not a single fatal case is reported. Every railway company has withdrawn its cars so as to avoid the use of sick horses. Many of those taken sick on Wednesday are already recovering.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 1.—The horse disease has appeared here. Fifty cases are reported.

Mrs. Vincent Collyer Drowned.

DARIEN (Conn.), Nov. 1.—The wife of Vincent Collyer was drowned yesterday while driving over a stream crossing the road to an island where they resided. She was returning alone after having accompanied her husband to the cars on his way to visit the Kiowa Indian delegation.

Arrested for an Attempt to Bribe.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—An Elmira dispatch reports the arrest of John Woodward for an attempt to bribe an elector. He gave bail; other arrests are expected.

Business Suspended.

NEW YORK Nov. 1.—Business is comparatively at a standstill in Jersey City, consequent upon horse disease; thirty three horses have died there.

Ambushed.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 1.—In Green county, Ohio, yesterday, A. B. Richison ambushed in a fence corner, shot and fatally wounded Mr. Bogswell. Both are young farmers and neighbors.

Miscellaneous News.

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—The jury in the Hall trial disagreed and were discharged; one report says that they stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. After the discharge of the jury, the court adjourned to November 18th, when the prosecution will ask for the trial of Tweed.

Mayor Hall remarked on leaving the court, that the result of his trial was the greatest disappointment he had experienced in 40 years.

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—The Tribune this morning editorially pays an eloquent and touching tribute to Col. Albert S. Evans, who is reported among the lost by the recent appalling disaster of the burning at sea of the steamship Missouri, concluding as follows: Col. Evans's place in journalistic literature will not easily be filled. The sympathies of many personal friends, and of such still wider circles as a popular writer wins, will be given to his bereaved family in their stricken home in San Francisco.

HARTFORD, Nov. 1.—Howard Brown, private Secretary of Admiral Farragut at the battle in Mobile bay, died at East Hartford, yesterday. Aged, 53 years.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The public debt was reduced the past month $5,000,000.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

From London.

LONDON, Nov. 1.—W. E. Baxter, member of Parliament for Montrose, addressed his constituents last night. He said the result of the Geneva arbitration was the grandest triumph of modern civilization. The award was just and the decision calculated to make nations careful, while it is eminently serviceable for the protection of English shipping and commerce in time of war. He praised Disraeli for his forbearance and discretion during the arbitration.

From Madrid.

MADRID, Oct 31.—The trial and impeachment of Ministry Sagasta promises some very curious disclosures. Sagosta has announced his intention of defending himself on the trial.

A private company has made a proposition to the Spanish Government to construct and maintain at its own expense the lines of telegraph throughout the country.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

From Victoria.

VICTORIA, Nov. 1.—H. M. S. Chameleon arrived yesterday, 84 days from Panama. The Assistant Paymaster, Mr. Pearson, was lost by being drowned off the Mexican coast at San Blas, while out fishing with a net. A sudden turn of the tide carried him beyond the reach of his friends. He was no swimmer.

Men will be engaged during the winter in taking out ore at the Hope silver mines, and it is intended to erect a mill next spring.

The steamer Geo S Wright arrived at Nanaimo on Wednesday night from Sitka, after a rough passage of twelve days.

Mr. Garfielde and Judge McFadden, the rival candidates for Congress, are "sparring" on Puget Sound. Both parties appear to be equally confident of success.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

SAN JUAN ISLAND, Nov. 1.—Mr. Samuel Fuller, aged about 65 years, was murdered at his own house, which is about four miles from the American Camp. He was an Englishman by birth and a very worthy man. He was found by the Rev. Mr. J. Weeks and a party who went in search of him. He must have been killed on last Monday, as a neighbor saw him at noon, but on calling again at 3 o'clock P. M. of the same day, he was missing and was not seen until four o'clock this morning. He was shot through the neck and then his skull broken in with rocks. He was paid a hundred and fifty dollars a week ago, and this is gone. It is hoped that his murderers will be found, who are supposed to be Klamakas. A party is now going out after them. Mr. Fuller has a family living in England. There is great excitement among the settlers here.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

VALLEJO, Nov 1.—Dr. Nilson states that there are several cases of the horse epidemic among horses of Suscol.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—At the rival mass meetings at Anaheim, to night, the San Diego R. R and Southern Pacific, report of withdrawal of the San Diego R. R. Co., from the field was authoritatively denied.

Up to to day thirty four horses entered for the fall races.

The fair opens on the 14th, in San Bernardino county, and is to be well represented.

SAN RAFAEL, Nov. 1.—Work has been pushed to the new coal mine, and the vein has increased so that a large amount of has been taken out and is being used in furnaces. Also have discovered several new veins running towards the main ledge. Experts who have examined the mine, say that indications are of its being a large and valuable deposit of mineral coal

VISALIA, Nov. 1.—At the Kingston races today of 3000 yards heat, three entries were made Pacific Eagle, Coal Oil Tommy and Long Tail. The former won the race, but after passing the judges' stand was run into by Coal Oil Tommy. Both horses and riders were thrown violently to the ground The riders were somewhat bruised, but not seriously hurt. Coal Oil Tommy was so badly injured that he died at seven this evening. Pacific Eagle is supposed to be badly hurt

About $45,000 was subscribed at a narrow-guage railroad meeting last night. One hundred thousand will be subscribed within thirty days. The project is to build a narrow guage railroad from Visalia to Stockton.

Capt. Bates, and wife, a wealthy English couple were recently registered at a Chicago hotel. The gentleman was eight feet tall and weighed 485 pounds. His wife was just two inches taller. Both were well proportioned, handsome and well educated.

Across the Continent.

We take the following account of a trip across the continent, from the British Colonist of the 29th of October. The trip was made through a part of the country not frequently travelled by white men. Col. Ross left this city for Victoria a few days ago. The Colonist says:

Colonel Robertson Ross, Adjutant-General of Militia for the Dominion, accompanied by his son, arrived in Victoria yesterday in the North Pacific, from Olympia, after a most interesting, although somewhat arduous, journey

The Daily Oregonian.

SATURDAY MORNING NOVEMBER 2, 1872

The Veto Again

The Herald rushes to the defense of His Excellency Governor Grover in regard to his veto of the act to repeal the Litigant organ law That paper offers nothing however in support of the extraordinary legal proposition that by the litigant law the Democratic litigant papers obtained a vested right which the Legislature could not afterwards take away Nor does the Herald cite us to the case to which his Excellency alluded when he said in his veto message that such a proposition had been sustained by "high judicial authority" Until the litigant organ backs up this remarkable statement of the law, by a specific reference to the authority upon which it is professedly put forth we suppose reasonable persons will be inclined to question the existence of any such decision

But the Herald says

It is very clear that the Governor, who has been thought to be a pretty good lawyer, is of opinion that newspaper publishers have acquired some rights, under this law, which cannot be squelched by the action of the Legislature and he felt it his duty, therefore, to interpose his veto to protect those rights, as well as to save parties litigant from trouble.

Governor Grover has truly been thought to be "a pretty good lawyer and the bar of the State, who are probably the best calculated to judge of his legal ability, regard him as one of the best informed of its members—too well informed to entertain the proposition which the Herald says "it is very clear that he holds to be correct His Excellency will hardly consider his position in this matter greatly improved by his litigant organ's commuting him, unconditionally to a proposition which he did not himself venture to state except with a hypothetical "if

The Herald says the Governor "felt it his duty" to interpose his veto to protect those "vested rights" of the litigant organs which could not be affected by legislation Since they could not be affected by legislation, where was the necessity of the all protecting veto? Why not leave the matter to the judicial department of the government, where it could be decided by "high judicial authority?"

But we give his Excellency credit for better judgment and more rational motives than the Herald seems inclined to admit that he possesses. We understand from the message of his Excellency upon this matter, that he only suggests the possibility of this construction being given to the law, and desires to avoid the confusion that might result therefrom Thus he endeavors to justify his veto on grounds of public policy We confess that we consider his Excellency's reasoning very feeble, but it is not wholly absurd, as the Herald would have us consider it The chief fault we find with the action of the Governor is, that he chose rather to seek a subterfuge than give a manly reason for his veto There was no occasion for the mentioning of an authority that had no existence, to prove a proposition that has no foundation, and which the Governor himself evidently regarded as fallacious

The Bulletin's Perversion of Facts

The extracts which we published on the 30th ult from the San Francisco Commercial Herald excited the Bulletin. These extracts showed that heavy freight is carried by the Central Pacific Railway, from Ogden to San Francisco, a distance of 881 miles, through a sparsely populated region, over alkali and sage plains, and over the high and expensive grades of the Sierra Nevadas, for $10 per ton, while the farmer of the Wallamet valley pays 14 cents per bushel—or $4 66⅔ per ton for carrying his wheat from Albany to Portland, a distance of 80 miles We do not wonder that the owner of the railway gets excited and squirms under these facts Nearly half as high charges for 80 miles through the fertile valley of the Wallamet, as for 880 miles over the region traversed by the Central Pacific, is a showing that may well excite all who have the interest of Oregon or even of the railway at heart

But the way in which the Bulletin endeavors to escape the conclusions which inevitably result from the facts stated in the Commercial Herald, is simply an attempt to conceal the truth and deceive the public with a false statement of the freights on the Central Pacific It quotes freight charges on merchandise on the Central Pacific as follows First class, per 100 pounds from Ogden to San Francisco, $1 85, or $37 per ton, second class, $1 60 per 100 pounds, or $32 per ton, third class, $1 35 per 100 pounds, or $27 per ton, fourth class, $1 10 per 100 pounds, or $22 per ton These are the same quotations we have heretofore given, when referring to merchandise generally, but they have nothing to do with wheat for wheat is not included in any of these classes

The Bulletin then proceeds to array the quotations of the first class, which are the highest, to prove that wheat is carried in Oregon cheaper than on the Central Pacific The fact is that wheat is not first class freight, but in all places—unless in Oregon—is among the cheap special freights, only a few articles being, cheaper We have before us the tariff of freights on the O & C Railway—Mr. Holladay's own line—showing that the charges on first class freight are a small fraction less and a half times as high as on grain So the Bulletin, by comparing first class freights on the Central Pacific with grain on the Wallamet valley, simply adds one hundred and fifty per cent, to the Central Pacific's tariff on grain, and then contrasts this fictitious a mount with what our farmers actually pay Such is the attempt to cover up the truth and deceive the public as to the high freights in this valley

But this tariff of freight on Mr. Holladay's road—issued by his own Company—shows somewhat more that is worth knowing for the purposes of this discussion It shows that Mr. Holladay's paper resorts to deliberate falsification, as well as to such perverting of the truth as we have shown it to be guilty of The Bulletin says

> The highest freight tariff on the Oregon and California Railroad, from its southernmost depot to Portland is only fifteen dollars per ton which is much less than one half the charge on the California road

Mr Holladay's tariff shows that the highest freight from the "southernmost depot—Oakland—to Portland, is twenty dollars per ton and that third class freight is fifteen dollars. Such deliberate falsification is worthy of the Bulletin and the cause in which it is engaged

And this tariff shows still further that the statement so often repeated by the Bulletin that there is no extra charge for handling freight on the Oregon road is untrue We quote from the tariff circular

> "All articles at our local rates, are to be loaded and unloaded by owners"

If the owner does not handle it himself of course he must pay those who do

It is certainly fair to compare freights of a given class in Oregon with those of the same class on the Central Pacific for that purpose allowing Mr Holladay to speak for his own road through his tariff circular the figures are as follows

First class freight on Oregon rail from Albany to Portland 14 miles per ton	$11 0
First class freight Central Pacific from Ogden to San Francisco 882 miles per ton	37 00
Second class freight Oregon rail from Albany to Portland	9 60
Second class freight Central Pacific from Ogden to San Francisco	3 00
Third class freight Oregon rail from Albany to Portland	7 60
Third class freight Central Pacific from Ogden to San Francisco	1 50

From this comparison it appears that all classes of business in this country are taxed in the same manner we have shown the farmers pay grain to be First class freight on the Central Pacific would be for eighty miles $3 70 on the Oregon road it is $11 20 Second class on the Central Pacific $3 20, on the Oregon road $9 60 Third class on the Central Pacific $2 70 on the Oregon road $7

On first and third class the Oregon charges are over one hundred and seventy five per cent in excess of the Central Pacific charges, in proportion to distance and on the second class they are just two hundred per cent higher on the Oregon road than on the Central Pacific

From these facts and those we have before given not one of which has been or can be shaken it appears

First—That freights on the Wallamet river are over seven times as high as on the lines of transportation by water in the Atlantic States

Second—That freights on the Oregon and California Railway are over four times as high as freight on a short line of road in the Atlantic States

Third—That freights on the Oregon and California railway are from two and three fourth times, to three times as high as on the Central Pacific

Fourth—(and least)—That in order to keep the people of this State blind to these facts, which contribute to produce the stringent times we now experience, the Wallamet valley transportation lines issue a paper devoted to the publication of incorrect information, concealment of truth and garbling of the commercial reports from abroad.

We do not know that freights can be carried as cheaply in Oregon as they can in other countries, but we think if they cannot, the difference actually paid by our farmers and merchants is certainly excessive and burdensome It is self evident that there is no sufficient reason for such astonishing increase of charges here, if there is reason for any increase

It appears by the dispatches from Utah that an organization is forming there which may prove dangerous to the established Mormon church This organization, which seems to have originated in a schism in the church, is called the Liberating League, and proposes to free the people from the abuses of the Mormon hierarchy If there is truth in the statement that this association is meeting with great favor among the masses of the people it may be the beginning of the final disintegration of the church There is no doubt that such a movement inside the church would receive strong outside support from the gentile population, which is growing more numerous every day.

This evening Hon. W D Hare will speak at the Court House. Let there be a full house Mr Hare never fails to entertain and interest his audience We are not informed whether Judge Shattuck expects to debate the questions with him or not. Having done so at Albany and Salem, it may be inferred he has concluded to return to the contest and remain in it to the end. From what we hear of the discussions up the valley we should think it makes little difference to Mr Hare whether he is alone or meets opposition He has it all his own way in other case.

Hon C W. Parrish, Chairman of the State Republican Committee, informs us that the intelligence from all parts of the State is most cheering There is no doubt that the Republicans mean to come out and vote and make the majority for Grant and Wilson as large as possible Let there be no idlers in the party on next Tuesday The sense of security should not cause a single voter to stay away from the polls The majority can not be too large

The address of Hon J H Mitchell last evening fully sustained his reputation as an orator Young as he is he will find few men in the Senate possessing greater oratorical powers than he To-morrow evening Mr Mitchell will speak at Lafayette and on Monday evening he will address the people of Washington county at Hillsboro

Hon John A Griswold whose death is announced this morning was the Republican candidate for Governor of New York, in 1870, against Hoffman, the present Governor He enjoyed the respect and esteem of the people of his State in a high degree, being regarded as a man of sound judgment and pure morals

The Republicans will have in the next Legislature of Pennsylvania a majority of 3 in the Senate and 28 in the House, making 31 on joint ballot

Hon J G. Wilson Congressman elect, sailed last evening on the Oriflamme for San Francisco en route for Washington City

The reduction of the public debt during October was over $6 000,000

THE TERRITORIES

Dr Maynard one of the founders of Seattle is now lying dangerously sick at that place

Oregon has four horses and Washington three entered are all represented on the Olympia race track this week

The steamer Zephyr got aground getting out of Olympia harbor a few days ago and remained for several hours on a sand bar

At Port Madison, on Saturday last a sailor by the name of Owen Davis, while engaged in loading lumber on the Ida Hume fell and broke his leg just above the ankle

The Olympia Courier says We learn from Mr Sargent Collector of Customs that on Monday evening a serious difficulty occurred between the cook and steward of the Fire Fly steamer who was going out of the port The cook struck the steward with a cleaver in the neck under the jaw almost severing the jugular vein It was thought at the time that the wounded man would not live but we have since learned better and it was thought he would survive The cook was sent to jail fourteen days for the act

What Shall be Done to the New York Tribune After the Election

> [From our own of the Cincinnati Gazette]
> New York October 31

There is great speculation among the newspaper fraternity as to the course of the Tribune after the election and rumor says the stockholders of that paper are to hold a meeting soon to decide upon a policy for them to pursue so confident are they that Mr Greeley's defeat is certain and some change will be rendered necessary to save the financial interest of the concern The Tribune has a Republican constituency behind it which the results of the election proved has not changed its political faith and as a Democratic organ it would have neither place nor support Its present editor Whitelaw Reid is perhaps as much responsible for the altered tone and temper of the paper which was noticeable before the Cincinnati Convention which gave birth to the Greeley phase of the Liberal movement as any one person who has had a voice in its affairs and he is also credited with doing more than any one to secure Mr Greeley's nomination This gentleman is talked of as the first one to be sacrificed after his defeat Mr Greeley says if defeated, he shall retire to Chappaqua and spend the balance of his days in retirement from public affairs He is thought to be too partisan in his constitutional make up to be a successful editor of an independent newspaper and it seems not unlikely that the Tribune may pass under entirely new management

AN ACT

To amend an Act entitled "An Act to authorize the City of Portland to open lay out and widen streets and alleys and to appropriate property therefor" Approved December 19th 1865

Be it enacted by the Legislative Assembly of the State of Oregon

Section 1 That Section four of an Act entitled "An Act to authorize the City of Portland to open, lay out and widen streets and alleys and to appropriate private property therefor" approved December 19, 1865 be so amended as to read as follows

Section 4 The Auditor and Clerk of the City shall immediately and at least five days before the time designed for such meeting, cause such viewers to be notified of their appointment and of the time and place for such meeting and such viewers shall meet at the time and place designated and take an oath faithfully to discharge the duties assigned them, and shall then, or on any other day to which they may adjourn, not exceeding one week, proceed to view the proposed street or alley and to assess and determine how much in loss value if any, lands, tenements hereditaments or premises or any part thereof through or over which such street or alley is to be laid out established or widened, will be rendered by the laying out establishing or widening of such street and all sys and if several parties have different estates or interests in any lots or parts thereof or any improvements thereon the damages of which each of such persons will respectively sustain according to the rules of law in suits of partition, and shall also make a just and equitable estimate and assessment of the value of the benefits and advantages of such street or alley so to be laid out, establishing or widened, as the case may be to the respective owners, lessees and other persons interested in any lands, tenements hereditaments and premises, any part of which is required for the opening laying out, establishing or widening of such street or alley in excess of the damages which in his own opinion, he or the other persons interested will sustain by reason of the opening laying out, establishing or widening of any such street or alley, and of the value of the benefit and advantage of such street or alley to the respective owners lessees or other persons interested in any lands tenements, hereditaments and premises not required for the purpose of opening, laying out establishing or widening any such street or alley, but fronting or to front thereon or being at and within half the distance of the next street or alley thereto and also within one hundred feet of the boundary of the street or alley to be laid out established or widened on each side thereof, and which the said viewers at all doom to be benefitted by such street or alley in respect to the respective estates and interest of said owners lessees and other persons respectively so interested in any lands tenements, hereditaments and premises and shall report such assessment to the next session of the Council

The extension of a street shall be deemed the laying out of a street within the meaning of this Act,

Provided that in case the said City shall for the purpose of straightening any street or alley already laid out or of straightening the intersection or junction of two or more streets or alleys already laid out, lay out or extend any street or alley through any block laid off according to the official maps of said City, the value of the benefits and advantages to be assessed shall not be confined to the respective owners lessees or other persons interested in the land tenements hereditaments and premises fronting or to front upon the parts of said street or streets alley or alleys laid out or extended through such block, but shall be assessed to the respective owners lessees or other persons interested in any land tenements hereditaments and premises fronting or to front upon said street or streets alley or alleys or any part thereof and lying at not a greater distance than one hundred feet from such street or streets alley or alleys but such assessment shall be a uniform extension or straight telling of said street boundary alley or alleys and shall in all other respects be in accordance with the provisions of this Act

Then and in such case the amount assessed by the said viewers upon the owners lessees or other parties interested in the land, tenements hereditaments and premises fronting or to front upon the parts of said street or streets alley or alleys laid out or extended through such block shall be deemed by the opening laying out or widening of such street or alley under the provisions of this Act shall constitute a fund or charge upon the estate and property of the respective owners lessees and parties interested in such lands tenements and premises for and on account of which the said respective sums shall be assessed by the said viewers and in the said report given owners lessees or other parties interested therein and shall be entered on the Docket of City Liens in like manner as assessments for street openings made in said City of Portland and the said report and order proceedings thereon shall be and constitute a lien upon the several lots parcels of land and premises assessed to the amount of the assessment thereon and the same shall be collected in like manner as provided for the collection of Delinquent taxes by the Act incorporating the City of Portland

All moneys collected from such assessment of benefits shall be kept in a separate fund, and be applicable to the satisfaction of the damages awarded to the owners of the other parcels of land property taken for the purpose Duplicate certificates of the assessments and liens which each lot is assessed shall be made out by the Auditor and Clerk whenever the Council so order and shall be collected in like manner as provided for the collection of Delinquent taxes by the Act incorporating the City of Portland

All moneys collected from such assessment of benefits shall be kept in a separate fund, and be applicable to the satisfaction of the damages awarded to the owners of the other parcels of land property taken for the purpose Duplicate certificates of the assessments and liens which each lot is assessed shall be made out by the Auditor and Clerk whenever the Council so order and shall be collected in like manner as provided for the collection of Delinquent taxes by the Act incorporating the City of Portland

SATURDAY MORNING, NOVEM

CITY.

REPUBLICAN MEETING —The Court House was crowded last evening at the Grant and Wilson meeting held at that place. The meeting was the announcement that the attraction was the announcement that Hon H Mitchell and Joseph G Wilson would address the citizens The evening was stormy and disagreeable, but at half past seven the Court room was thronged One pleasant feature on the occasion was the presence of a large number of ladies Senator Mitchell was introduced to the audience by the President of the meeting and spoke for over an hour The Senator spoke among Mr Mitchell's most happy efforts He made an eloquent and exhaustive argument in favor of the present nominees of the Republican party for President and Vice President and demonstrated the fact by the most cogent reasoning that Greeley should not be elected. We have not room for the want of space from speaking at length at present of Mr Mitchell's speech, but we will say briefly that it was among the most able campaign address yet made in this city Its conclusion of the speech, loud and long calls were made for Mr Wilson, the other speaker of the evening Malarky, the President of the evening, apologized for that gentleman's absence and stated that Judge Wilson had declined to speak to the audience that he (Wilson) was in a hurry that it was impossible for him to do so as he had supposed the steamer would be down at 11 o'clock last evening, thus allowing him time to address the citizens of Portland before his departure for Washington City, but was informed that he sailed promptly at 5 o'clock, he would not attempt to forego the pleasure of addressing his fellow citizens and friends. As the chairman took his seat Hon Clifferns Cells were made for Hon. Benjamin Harrison who was seated on the platform. The gentleman positively declining to address the meeting on account of the absence of the name of Mr Caples was next called for and after some delay and hesitation came forward and addressed the meeting at some length The meeting was then declared adjourned The rally can be characterised as a grand success, speaking again this evening.

OLD BOOKS —We had the pleasure of examining inspecting three old volumes, containing the old English statutes during part of the 15th and 16th centuries These rare old treasures were brought up by Hon J W. Whalley, during his recent visit to the Old World, and presented to him by Mr P Deady, on his return to this city The first volume contains the statutes from the reign of Henry III to Henry VIII, and was printed in the year 1543 The second volume contains the laws during the reign of Henry VI, and was printed during the year 1570. The third volume contains the laws from the reign of Edward VI to James I, of England. These old books are printed on a coarse kind of paper, similar to the papyrus, in use in several centuries after the Christian era The art of making paper from rags was not invented until the year 1588 The style of printing the old English black letter, known as the art of printing The marginal notes are quaint, and the illustrations—a kind of wood cut in its earliest incipiency—are grotesque in the extreme. Each volume has the ancient coat of arms—the lion and unicorn fighting for the crown—crudely printed at the head of each page. The binding is in excellent preservation, and of the book. The ink is not faded in any of its ebony hue by the long lapse of years, or the symmetry of the letters blurred or obliterated by constant usage The binding is not equal to modern date, and indicates more clearly the infancy of the binding art than the printing art There are older volumes in the city, but none containing more curious or high historical information than these quaint English works, printed when legal jurisprudence was in its infancy and imperfectly developed condition

SHOOTING AT OREGON CITY.—Our correspondent at Oregon City furnishes the following particulars concerning the shooting affray which occurred at that place last Wednesday evening Mr Jacob Wortman, a brother of Mr and Robert Jenkins, who was employed in the store of whichman at the time of the occurrence Wortman's store and the Postoffice, a short distance ago, got into an altercation, each accusing the other of falsifying the truth. Mr Wortman accused Mr Jenkins of falsifying, but Jenkins denied it, telling the truth, used similar words to Wortman, whereupon Jenkins struck him several heavy blows with a heavy cane, following him to the door, and after knocking him down, drew his revolver and fired twice, one shot going through the door (Wortman's) coat Wortman did not return the fire as he had no weapons on his person when he first entered and, fortunately, no injuries were received by Wortman except from the blows with the cane Jenkins was arrested, waived examination, and has subsequently been indicted by the grand jury on two charges of assault with intent to kill, and an assault with a dangerous weapon. He was admitted to bail in the sum of $800 for the two charges and awaits his trial in the Circuit Court

"FRANTING THE DRAGON."—The Chinese were industriously engaged last night in celebrating the "Feast of the Lanterns" which occurs the most approved style Numerous lanterns were used, but these small arms were entirely compensated for by an everlasting din of the blowing of wheezy horns and beating of cymbals and tom toms. The interior of the old he dragon himself was brilliantly illuminated both with gas and the glimmering rays of his Royal Majesty on the walls There was a profusion of red and little lamps, suspended from the ceiling at intervals The room was gorgeously and tastefully adorned with demi and semi gods and goddesses, Joss and Josseet and many other articles known to their superstitious and heathenish canons. A large number of persons were attracted to the room by the glare, tinsel, and the din, during last eve ing.

QUARTZ —The results of an assay of gold and silver bearing quartz were made by a reporter yesterday by Mr. Fisk. The quartz was sent to this city to test. The lode from which the specimens were sent, is situated in what is known as Eyo Valley, near Hot Springs in Eastern Oregon A careful assay in the presence of the following parties Mr Cornelius Gentine and Gutierous metals Value per ton, $32 82 ounces, yield of gold per ton, $27 84, 4 25 ounces, value of silver per ton, $717 14 The lead from which the quartz was taken, was discovered but a few months ago, and it is well defined that the rock is abundant, and the per centage of metal sufficient to yield a handsome profit on the capital invested in working these mines

REPUBLICAN MEETING —The Court House was crowded last evening at the Grand Army hall at that place The most prominent meeting held at that place The meeting was called to order at 8 o'clock by the announcement that Hon J H Mitchell and Joseph G Wilson would address the citizens The evening was stormy and disagreeable, but at half past seven the expected hour was thronged One pleasant feature of the occasion was the presence of a large number of ladies Senator Mitchell was introduced to the audience by the President of the meeting He spoke for over an hour The speech was among Mr Mitchell's most happy efforts He made an eloquent and exhaustive argument in favor of the present nominees of the Republican party for President and Vice President and demonstrated the fact by the most cogent reasons why Greeley should not be elected We are precluded for the want of space from speaking more extendedly of Mr Mitchell's speech, but will add only that it was among the most able and effective campaign addresses yet made in this city At the conclusion of the speech loud and frequent calls were made for Mr Wilson, the other speaker Mr Malarky the President of the evening arose and apologized for that gentleman's absence He stated that Judge Wilson had delegated him to say to the audience that he (Wilson) was very sorry that it was impossible for him to appear He had supposed the steamer would be detained until 11 o'clock last evening, thus allowing him time to address the citizens of Portland before his departure for Washington City but as the steamer sailed promptly at 5 o clock, he would be compelled to forego the pleasure of addressing his Republican friends. As the chairman took his seat vociferous calls were made for Hon Ben Simpson who was seated on the platform That gentleman positively declining to address the meeting, the name of Mr Caples was next called, who after some delay and hesitation came forward and spoke at some length The meeting was then dismissed The rally can be characterized as a grand success Speaking again this evening

OLD BOOKS —We had the pleasure yesterday of inspecting three old volumes containing the English statutes during part of the 15th and 16th centuries These rare old treasures were gathered up by Hon J W Whalley, during his recent visit to the Old World, and presented to Judge M P Deady, on his return to this city The first volume contains the statutes from the reign of Henry III to Henry VIII, and was printed in the year 1543 The second volume gives the laws during the reign of Henry VIII and was printed in 1575 The third volume contains the laws from the reign of Edward VI to Elizabeth, and was probably printed during the reign of James I, of England These old books are printed on a coarse kind of material similar to the papyrus, in use for any ordinary purposes after the Christian era for the art of making paper from rags was not invented until the year 1588 The style of type is the old English black letter, known to the earlier art of printing. The marginal notes are very quaint, and the illustrations—a kindred art then in its earliest inclipiency—are grotesque in the extreme Each volume has the ancient coat of arms—the lion and unicorn fighting for the possession of the crown—crudely printed at the commencement or close of the book The ink has not lost any of its ebony hue by the long lapse of years or the symmetry of the letters blurred in the least by constant usage The binding is apparently of modern date, and indicates more advancement in the binding art than the printing betokens There are older volumes in the city, but perhaps none containing more curious or highly prized information than these quaint English statutes at a period when legal jurisprudence was in a crude and imperfectly developed condition

SHOOTING AT OREGON CITY —Our regular correspondent at Oregon City furnishes the following particulars concerning the shooting affair which occurred at that place last Wednesday evening Mr Jacob Wortman, a storekeeper, and Robert Jenkins, who was employed as night watchman at the time of the burglary of Mr Wortman's store and the Postoffice, some weeks ago, got into an altercation, each accusing the other of falsifying the truth Mr W being accused by Mr Jenkins in very strong language of not telling the truth, used similar words in return, whereupon Jenkins struck him several times with a heavy cane, felling him to the ground, and after knocking him down, drew his pistol and fired twice, one shot going through the lapel of his (Wortman's) coat Wortman did not fire at all, as he had no weapons on his person Bystanders interfered and, fortunately, no injury was received by Wortman except from the blows of the cane Jenkins was arrested, waived a preliminary examination, and has subsequently been indicted by the grand jury on two charges, to wit assault with intent to kill, and an assault with a dangerous weapon He was admitted to bail in the sum of $300 for the two charges and now awaits his trial in the Circuit Court

"SCARING THE DRAGON" —The Chinese population were industriously engaged last evening in celebrating the "Feast of the Lesser Dragon" after the most approved style No firecrackers were used, but these small arms were more than compensated for by an everlasting din caused by the blowing of whey horns and the cymbals beating of cymbals and tom toms The grand temple of the old he dragon himself was brilliantly illuminated both with gas and some dazzling cuts of his Royal Sulphurous Majesty on the walls There was also big lamps and little lamps suspended from the ceiling and many curiously revolving lights placed around at intervals The room was gorgeously and grotesquely adorned with semi and semi gods and goddesses Joss and Josshess and many curious devices known to their superstitious rites and ceremonies, A large number of persons were attracted to the room by the glare, tinsel and heathenish din, during last eve ing

QUARTZ —The results of an assay of some gold and silver bearing quartz were shown our reporter yesterday by Mr Fisk The rock was sent to this city to test The lode from which the specimens were sent is situated in what is known as Rye Valley, near Humboldt Basin in Eastern Oregon A careful assay indicated the presence of the following per cent of the precious and auriferous metals Yield of silver per ton, 467 82 ounces, yield of gold per ton 4.25 ounces, value of silver per ton, $629 30 value of gold per ton $87 84 total value per ton, $717 14 The lead from which the specimen quartz was taken, was discovered several months ago, and is a well defined vein The rock is abundant, and the per centage of precious metal sufficient to yield a handsome profit on the capital invested in working these mines

LEAD ORE —A few days ago some specimens of lead ore were received from Kootenay Indian Columbia, by Mr Fisk, of this city. He tested them and although but a very small quantity of the ore was sent, the assay proved very satisfactory It was ascertained that about 90 per cent of the ore was the pure metal The rock met with in large quantities in the vicinity of Kootenay The principal difficulty presented in the working of these mines is their inaccessibility and the consequent trouble and expense of transporting the ore or metal When the Canadian railroad is completed a line of which is intended to penetrate those isolated regions the mines will no doubt be developed and be more of great value to those who may have the capital and enterprise to work them

THE SENTENCE —The case of Wash Brady, indicted for assault with a deadly weapon on Chas Trego, was on trial last Thursday in the District Court now in session at Vancouver The jury rendered a verdict after a short deliberation that the defendant was guilty as charged in the indictment. From certain extenuating circumstances brought out in the progress of the trial or a recommendation to the clemency of the court Brady was passed with no much leniency as the character of the case would allow—being fined $100 and costs or imprisonment for three months not being able to liquidate the amount to the fine, Brady was committed to jail

MAN SHOT —We learn that a man named Andrew Payne was accidentally shot Thursday evening, at Reynolds near Rooster about 26 miles southeast of this city A man came to Lost Portland yesterday morning about 5 o clock and summoned Dr Rafferty who started on with all dispatch to visit the wounded man We are unable to ascertain the particulars or the character of the injuries received

AMOUNT DISBURSED —The following amounts were disbursed by Postmaster Wakefield yesterday, on account of the construction of the new custom house for the month just closed Currency, $6 603 61 coin, $4 100 00 Total $10 703 61

SPEAKS AT HILLSBORO —Hon John H Mitchell will address the citizens of Hillsboro next Monday, November 4th

INDEPENDENT CHAMPIONS OF THE RED CROSS

HALL OF PORTLAND ENCAMPMENT No 7
I C R C Oct 30th 7 P M

Agreeably to notice delegates to the Grand Encampment and members of the Order met and were called to order by Geo B Taylor Founder of the Order and Supreme Commander

A motion to organize the Grand Encampment Independent Champions of the Red Cross was made and after discussion unanimously carried

A temporary organization was then effected by choosing Geo B Taylor Chairman and I I Smith Secretary

A motion was made that a committee of three be appointed to draft a Constitution for the Grand Encampment Carried

Committee Messrs Burrows of No 3 Beal of No 7 and Scott of No 1

On motion the Secretary was added to the above committee

Adjourned to meet on Wednesday at 2 P M

WEDNESDAY Oct 30th 2 P M

Meeting called to order by the Chairman Geo B Taylor

The Supreme Commander stated that he would give written authority to all members desiring to take part in forming the Grand Encampment

Twenty six persons representing six encampments then took the obligation, signed the Articles of Compact, and were declared members of the Grand Encampment

The election of officers was then taken up resulting in the choice of the persons whose names we have heretofore published

The officers were then obligated and installed

After which, the Grand Encampment of the Independent Champions of the Red Cross of Oregon and Washington Territory, was declared regularly instituted and organized and duly prepared to exercise all the functions of a Grand Body

The regular Standing Committees for the next term were then appointed

The annual session of this Grand Encampment was fixed on the first Tuesday in May

On motion, adjourned to meet to morrow (Thursday) morning at 9 o clock

THURSDAY, Oct 31st, 9 A M

The Grand Encampment was called to order by C I Burrows, Grand Commander

The Constitution, as reported by the Committee, was read, amended and adopted

The formation of a Constitution for subordinate encampments was next taken up, lasting until noon, when the Encampment took a recess till 2 o clock P M

AFTERNOON SESSION

Grand Encampment called to order, and consideration of the Constitution for subordinates resumed This was finally completed and adopted

After which the salary of the Grand Secretary was fixed

On motion the acting Grand Secretary was authorized to turn over the supplies

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted by a rising vote

Resolved That this Grand Encampment of Independent Champions of the Red Cross is independent and distinct from the Grand Encampment of Champions of the Red Cross of California It is not in any way under the jurisdiction of California, and derives no power therefrom but is independent and distinct, having full authority in its own jurisdiction.

Resolved, That we recognize and receive Geo B. Taylor as the Originator and Founder of the Independent Champions of the Red Cross, and we most heartily recommend him to all men as such We will receive and do regard him as the Supreme Commander of the Order, and until such time as a Supreme Commander of the Order is instituted he is empowered to perform all the duties of the same.

Resolved, That we recognize and receive Rev A C McDougall as the Supreme Counsellor of this Order, and we do most heartily recommend him as a thorough worker in the temperance cause

Resolved That we have perfect confidence in Companion Geo B Taylor's ability as the head of the Order, and that he will faithfully and truly advance the interests of the Order to its final consummation in the organization of a Supreme Commandery of the United States of North America, and elsewhere

Under Good of the Order, pleasant addresses were made by several, and a determination expressed to go forward earnestly in the work

After a cheering song, the Grand Encampment adjourned sine die

Grand Secretary

LOCAL BREVITIES

No through mails again last evening This is getting monotonous

The WEEKLY OREGONIAN is now ready for mailing to Eastern friends

RELIGIOUS MEETINGS — Religious meetings have been held at the M L Taylor street Church every evening and noon of each day during the present week These meetings will probably be held in the same manner the ensuing week A good interest is manifested The Rev Geo Hargous this morning to Shedd's Station to dedicate a Church to morrow Rev W H Roberts will occupy his pulpit at the Taylor street Church to morrow

BOARD OF DELEGATES —There will be a special meeting of the Board of Delegates of the Portland Fire Department this evening The object of the meeting is to investigate the charges preferred against several members of Protection Engine Co No 4 by the Chief Engineer A full attendance of the Board is desired

ELECTED —The following officers were elected at a regular meeting of Marvin Grove No 2 I O O D, to serve for the ensuing term E H Stolte N A A B Hallock V A, O Pasquard, R S O Bal, S S, W H Utter T R Norman, J G, Trustees, Al Ziebor, A A Williams

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL —The counsel for the defense in the case of Wm Bird, found guilty of murder in the first degree in the District Court at Vancouver, have filed a motion for a new trial The argument on the motion was argued before Judge Greene yesterday

LEVELING —A gang of Chinamen are engaged in leveling the block lying south and west of Second and F streets The loose earth is being scraped along F street to fill up the depressions and bring that street up to the established grade

THIS EVENING —Hon W D Hare will address the Republicans this evening at the Court House We hope that every person who feels an interest in the triumph of the right cause, will attend in full force Let there be a grand rally

ACKNOWLEDGED —We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation and ticket to attend the Odd Fellows Ball to be given at Oakland on the 8th inst We should be most gratified to attend but time and distance forbids the same

JURORS DISCHARGED —Both the grand and petit jurors in attendance on the District Court at Vancouver have been discharged Their presence being no longer required The Court will probably adjourn to day

RETAINED —The wall ing beam of the steamer Oriflamme was under going some needed repairs yesterday The repairs however did not detain the steamer from sailing at the advertised hour

ARRESTS —From the first of October up to 12 o clock last night 162 arrests were made by the police force The majority of the arrests were for drunkenness and disorderly conduct

REMOVED —All the ties and track along First street in East Portland have been torn up and removed to some point where such materials are required

SPEAKING AT VANCOUVER —The citizens of Vancouver were addressed on the political topics of the day Thursday evening by John F Miller

GOVERNMENT SALE —There will be a government sale at Vancouver to day The sale will consist of military stores equipments etc

TURN TABLE —A turn table is being constructed for the street cars at the intersection of North First and F streets

SHOT DEAD —The secret of success in any business rests in the fact that it is thoroughly understood by Fisk Brothers corner of First and Washington, a result hence their popularity as dispensers of Tea and Coffee, during the busy season. If you would keep warm during the coming winter and enjoy life, call and get some goods A will certainly expect to treat to a perfect good drink every time you call Those who have once dealt with them rarely ever change Remember Fair dealing and courteous manners always

Oregon Central R R Co vs Raleton Wait et al continued to next term Mitchell & Dolph for plaintiff

Milton Brown vs Western Union Telegraph Co demurrer court sustained demurrer and allowed time to file amended complaint on payment of $5 for costs C I Warren for plaintiff ; C A Dolph for defendant

W Carey Johnson, on the part of the Bar called the attention of the Court to the fact that since the last term death had deprived them of a highly respected member to wit the Hon W P Matlock who had resided in Clackamas county twenty five years, and was four years Judge of the County Courty, and who during twenty-three years residence in the State had occupied a prominent place in the public confidence and been honored by the people, and trusted by those who know him best as few are honored and trusted

Therefore on motion duly made on behalf of the bar of this court the Court places upon its records this testimonial of the high esteem in which the Hon Judge Matlock was and has held by the Court by the bar, and in the community, as a good man as a public spirited citizen and as a pioneer whose highest aim in living, was to benefit his fellow citizens his State and his nation

Thereupon the Court adjourned for the day

Court met Tuesday, and disposed of the following cases

Otis and wife vs Gibson Ford and Stone for plaintiff T H Tongue for defendant Foreclosure of mortgage for $1,079 80 Judgment for plaintiff

State of Oregon vs John Gordon for murder grand jury having found true bill, defendant allowed till to morrow to plead

Vaughn vs Ramsby, suit for damages, defendant charged with changing the natural channel of the Molalla river, and causing plaintiff's land to be flooded jury trial verdict for the defendant C L Warren for plaintiff Johnson and McCown for defendant

State of Oregon vs Robert Jenkins assault with intent to kill grand jury found true bill defendant allowed until to morrow in which to plead

State vs John Dacos, larceny same as above

State vs Lee and Brady, burglary, same as above

State vs Wayland injuring property of another, same as above

State vs G I M Strond resisting an officer This case excited great interest at the time of its occurrence a Deputy Sheriff having boarded the cars to make an arrest, but was very summarily ejected The grand jury, however did not bring in a true bill

Criminal Imposition

A bad bill substituted for a good one is simply a loss to the pocket of the latter but a poisonous slop substituted as a life-sustaining medicine imperils the health of those who imbibe it and the man who concocts or sells, or recommends such an article is a criminal impostor, and deserves to be visited with a heavier penalty than if he had counterfeited gold pieces or forged bank bills. Many vile unwholesome potions now being offered for sale in various parts of the country as tonics and "restoratives," are recommended by their dishonest proprietors and vendors as cures for the famous national specific Hostetter s Stomach Bitters Desperate attempts are made to thrust these pernicious compounds into the hands and down the throats of life long patrons of the great vegetable stimulant and stomachic, and with such false pretences against health and life very rarely succeed It nevertheless seems to be a duty occasionally to warn the credulous against them Hostetter s Bitters, the one purified remedy for casual indigestion, confirmed dyspepsia, Biliousness liver complaint malarious fevers constipation constitutional weakness and the functional derangement of the weaker sex, has for twenty years stood at the head of all medicines of its class—so far above them as to render competition futile It has not yet reached the meridian of its popularity, its sale being larger now than at any period since its introduction Its utility as a preventive of disorders engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere or unwholesome water is admitted by physicians practicing in unhealthy districts and it is recommended as a stimulant by many practitioners who will not take the responsibility of prescribing the adulterated liquors of our cities

A Funny Indiana Story.

[From the New York Mercury.]

A contributor introduces Dr. Dick Ross and his pretty wife, who had gone together to Indiana to "grow up with the country," and proceeds with a decidedly funny story under the caption of Pro Bono Publico.

The little town selected by the young doctor was called Bono (you can see it on the map). Mrs. Dr. Ross soon formed the acquaintance of the people in the town and vicinity, and by her affability became quite popular. The chief accomplishment possessed by that versatile lady (and one in which she excelled) was drawing. Specimens of her art decorated the walls of more than one of the humble cottages in Bono.

Ben Prow was the big man of Bono. It was during an excited political contest A mass meeting was announced in Bono A majority of able orators was expected, and the speeches were to be followed by a grand barbecue. Previous to the day, Ben Prow was here, there, and everywhere, superintending the erection of a speakers' stand, overseeing the preparations for the barbecue, etc., etc. A committee was appointed to wait upon Mrs. Dr Ross and request her to paint a banner worthy of the occasion. That urbane lady readily complied. Upon one side of the delicate banner, fluttering in red, white and blue, was a fac simile of the American eagle, clasping in one of his immense talons the simple but powerful word, "Union," while the other rested upon the irrepressible motto, "E Pluribus Unum!" On the reverse side was a life-sized picture of the proud Goddess of Liberty From the tapering fingers of one hand floated a badge upon which, in gilt letters, were inscribed "Pro Bono Publico," while in graceful attitude she grasped with the other hand the pole so dear to every Republican heart.

For several days before the mass meeting the banner was placed in a prominent position in the store of Ben Prow. Ben was in ecstasy but his triumph over Mrs. Ross' work of art was doomed to be short lived. The day previous to the meeting a tall-raw-boned fellow entered the store. The name of this individual was Jim Dyke, one of a class whose self-complacency amounts to sublimity. Casting his eyes upward, they encountered the banner. For an instant Jim Dyke gave a stare, then a prolonged whistle. Burying his huge hands in his rough pockets, he walked around and took a closer survey. Lastly he cast a leer at Ben; then, drawing a long breath, asked:

"Who done it?"

Ben was at that moment wrapping up a bundle for a customer, and held one end of cord between his teeth as he answered.

"Who done what?"

Jim Dyke bestowed another leer upon the village merchant, and nodded his head in the direction of the banner.

"If you mean who painted that banner," returned Prow, proudly, "it is the work of Mrs. Dr. Ross; and a nicer lady nor a finer flag never lived nor floated in no country!"

Jim Dyke squared himself in front of the speaker.

"Look-ee here, Ben Prow, I thought you called yourself smart. But I ken tell you thar aint n-a-r-y woman that lives that kon pull wool over my eyes. Why, Ben Prow, do you let a woman come it over you? Darn'd if I see what you're drivin' at."

"In the first place," said Dyke, bridling, "if you ain't sharp enough to see it, why I kon tell you." Drawing a hand from his pocket he pointed to the peerless Goddess, as he continued: "Pro bono publico! thar it is; read it for yourself. Can't you see the woman a holdin' you up thar. Yes, by dogs, an' ye're town too! An' all to make them candidates laugh at you when they git here an' see it! Darn my buttons if I'd stand that!"

Ben followed the direction of Dyke's finger and said:

"Blamed if I see what you mean. It is you that can't see!"

"I'd say!" returned Dyke, contemptuously. "I could see that a mile off. Aren't that woman holdin' your name, an' the name of your town, right whar everybody kon see? As sure as you're standin' long side of the cheer, Mrs. Dr. What-you-call-'em done it for nothin' but to make you look cheap before them big men when they come. It's as plain as the nose on yo're face, Bon Prow."

"It's a fact, by the holy poker, Dyke! I never seed it, tho', till you showed it to me. It's so, certain! 'Pro,' that means me—an' 'Bono,' that means the town—an' 'Publico,' that, I guess, means all of us." Turning suddenly, and seizing his hat, he added: "Darn'd if I don't have satisfaction," and rushing from the store he took the direction of Dr. Dick's dwelling, never heeding Dyke, who balloed after him:

"An' ax her what she stuck onion on t'other side for?"

The schoolmaster of the village who, unobserved, had witnessed the above colloquy, now spoke:

"Allow me, Mr. Dyke, to correct you, there is no such word as 'onion' upon that banner; and besides, pro bo—"

"Darn it!" interrupted the self-complacent hoosier, "don't try to harangue me with your book learnin'. Guess I know. It u-n-(un) i-o-n (you) don't spell onion, then I'll agree to swaller that flag, staff an' all! Can't fool Jim Dyke—n-o, n-i-r!"

Some minutes later a messenger entered the store with a request from Dr. Ross, that the schoolmaster would come immediately to his house. He found in spite of Mrs Ross's assertion that no insult was intended by the device upon the flag—backed by her husband's interpretation of the inscription—Ben Prow was still unwilling to believe unless their version of the matter was corroborated by the testimony of the schoolmaster.

"For," as Prow declared, "he teaches school and knows all about Latin, an' if he tells me that what you an' your lady says is the right thing, then, doctor, I'll give it up."

Happily for all concerned; the decision of the learned pedagogue was sufficient, and Prow swore he was satisfied, and also swore that if ever Jim Dyke came into his store again he'd "knock him into a cocked hat!"

Charitable Institutions in Glasgow.

There is probably no city in the British Empire in which there has, of late years, been more decided progress in the establishment of charitable institutions than in Glasgow.

Within the past few years many thousand pounds have been expended in the erection of spacious and elegant buildings as homes for the friendless and afflicted. In these buildings, erected on the finest sites near the city, are conducted some of the best industrial schools to be seen in the world.

The building just erected for the Deaf and Dumb, is probably the finest of the kind to be met with in any land, and the conduct of the school will compare most favorably with the very best in other parts of the world.

The other two institutions which impressed us most favorably, were the Industrial School at Mossbank, and the Magdalene Institution at Lochburn, both of them in splendid buildings, beautifully located three or four miles from the city. In the School at Mossbank there are some four hundred boys, who have been taken from the streets of the city at a tender age, and besides receiving here a good business education, they are taught a trade, and then sent forth to make a living in the world, under the oversight of the institution, until they shall have grown up to manhood. There is also a female department, a short distance off, of more than two hundred children, conducted on the same plan with the one at Mossbank.

The other institution which interested us even more deeply than the one at Mossbank, is the Magdalene Home at Lockburn The good people of Glasgow may well be proud of this noble charity.

We have seen a good number of similar institutions in Europe and America, but never saw one to compare favorably with this. The building is far superior to any other we have seen for such institutions, and the whole arrangement of the establishment, as well as the paternal discipline, tend to inspire the best feelings in the inmates.

There are assembled some two hundred of this most unhappy class, and whatever can be done to restore them to a life of virtue is here done, and with as much, if not more success, than we have heard elsewhere. Within three years, sixty girls are reported by the directors of the institution to have left their evil ways, and to be supporting themselves in respectable occupations.

The one feature of this institution that impressed us most favorably, is the admirable management of the industrial department.

The gross receipts of the work done in the various departments for the past year, sum up £1,913 nearly approximating to the whole annual cost of the institution Much the largest portion of this sum is realized from the admirably conducted laundry, which regularly employs some seventy girls.

We call attention to these three institutions as specimens of the many similar charities of this most enterprising and prosperous city.—Church Work.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

Financial.

FRIDAY EVENING, Nov. 1, 1872.

Gold in New York to-day, 113¼.

Portland Legal Tender rates, 88c buying; 89c selling.

Wheat in Liverpool, 12s 8d; Club Wheat, 12s 2d@12s 4d.

Exchange by telegraph, via New York, 1¾@1¾ per cent. premium; via San Francisco, par to ½ per cent. premium.

Home Finances.

The collectors to day report the usual difficulty as unabated, and we fear retailers will suffer inconvenience in meeting their liabilities for the month. The City banks have received additions to their capital lately, but still the supply is hardly adequate to the demand for legitimate uses. The scarcity of money has caused several changes in retail firms during the past few weeks; some of those who had built up a fair trade in dear times, becoming discouraged by the prevailing stringency have changed their business, and are undertaking other enterprises. Some argue that a cessation of the credit system by our jobbing merchants would have a tendency to bring about a better state of monetary affairs by causing purchasers to buy with greater caution, and in consequence be more careful in making sales to retail customers. There is much more reason in the proposition than in that other idea that of immediate resumption of specie payments. It is generally conceded by those who are not novices in financial matters that any violent steps in that direction would be sure to bring upon the country only a more distressing pressure, if not productive of financial disaster and bankruptcy. The safer and wiser plan is a gradual reduction of the obstacles that stand in the way of resumption, and after awhile it will take place without a jar of the whole commercial fabric of the nation.

On account of the low price of many agricultural products there will be an effort to carry them largely during the winter, but the banks will carry on a fair margin such produce to the utmost of their ability. The only real suffering, if any, will be occasioned by the farmer's reluctance to sell and his consequent inability to pay his merchant, who in turn cannot meet his payments promptly. We advise prudence, but entertain no fears of the future. The carrying business is a question of interest, and although that is a heavy item it can be borne to a limited extent by those otherwise unembarrassed. So far as the banks are concerned there will be no effort to force the markets downwards. They too highly appreciate the magnitude and importance of Western produce as the basis of their success to refuse any assistance in their power.

Vessels Coming.

There are now on the way to this port twelve sailing vessels Of these, three are from European, one from South American, one from British Columbia, two from Chinese and five from domestic ports. They are the British ship Victoria Nyanza, 177 days, and the British ship Victoria Cross, 92 days from Middlesborough, the British bark Barracouta, 75 days from Liverpool; the Italian bark Liguria, 127 days from Callao; the British bark Nawortk, 4 days from Victoria; the barkentine Welfoot, 12 days, and Free Trade, the brigs Orient and Perpetua, and the schooner Alice Hooke, 18 days from San Francisco, and the British bark Channel Light, 46 days, and bark Red Deer, 51 days from Hongkong Those vessels represent about 5,000 tons of freight.

Home Market.

Wheat is unchanged to day, with fair receipts. Purchases are reported as being made in the interior at rates not above $1 35 ₱ cental delivered in sacks.

Flour is in good demand at former quotations. Some mills which have heretofore at a corresponding season of the year run on full time, are now running short on account of a lack of funds to purchase grain. It is reported that many farmers will only dispose of so much of their surplus grain at the going rates as will satisfy their immediate necessities, holding it over in hope of appreciating prices

Oats are more active, owing to an increased demand, more especially for local consumption We quote at from $1 40@1 45 for choice, with little anxiety on the part of sellers.

Feed is in good supply, and rates are dull at the figures given. We quote Bran at $15 ₱ ton; Chop, $22; and Middlings, $27 50 ₱ ton

Butter and Eggs are abundant, though the quality is reported inferior, and good fresh articles are going freely at rates quite firm.

Potatoes are plentiful, and prices are sinking.
